Predatory Journals

Dear Nordhoff, S.,

Nowadays, contemporary academic practices have been considerably affected by new progress in a variety of areas related to sustainable development research. To share knowledge, International Journal of Sustainable Development Research (IJS DR) aims to build a sound platform for all parties interested in this area.

With this goal, we hereby encourage you to delve into your study based on the previously published paper, or contribute new papers in the fields of Software Architectures and Design, Software Economics, Policy and Ethics, etc.
