

Series Editors' Meeting 2017

Sebastian Nordhoff
November 16, 2017

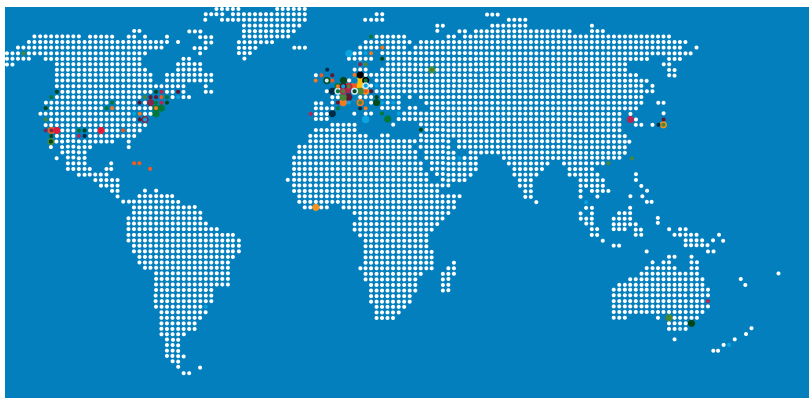

} projected for 2018: 30 works, but already 36 in the pipeline

- › Expressions of interest in 2017: 80 (2016: 73)
- › duration of publication
  - › reviewing: 91 days median, 253 days max
  - › submission→publication: 244d median, 1145d max

- > total edited volumes: 61,825
- > total monographs: 89,340
- > Tonal placement in Tashlhiyt 178 ↔ The future of dialects 20,913

- › change of service provider from CreateSpace to BoD
- › worldwide, softcover, cheap, easier handling, no customs issues

- > well distributed
- > not all equally responsive
- > 1269 OMP users, 916 supporters
- > 1297 Twitter followers, 1324 Facebook followers

- › 1 coordinator
- › 1 student assistant

- › 1 coordinator
- › 1 student assistant
- › about 300 volunteers

- › Zenodo used as a DOI provider
- › Paperhive now used for all proofreading
  - › now regularly over 1000 comments in proofreading
  - › unbalance between typology++ and the rest
- › all books directly linked from LangSci site
- › `docloop` for backlink from Paperhive to author

- › Open-Access-Tage, Dresden
- › FID Afrikanistik, Frankfurt/M
- › Middle Eastern Studies, Marburg
- › Verband der Philologie-Fachreferaten NRW, Bergisch-Gladbach
- › Ministry for Research and Education, Berlin
- › Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft, Bonn Allianz-Initiative
Digitale Information, AG Wissenschaftliches Publikationswesen

- › Knowledge Unlatched
  - › 69/100 institutions @ 1,000 EUR
  - › 3/150 individual pledges @ 100 EUR
- › Book processing charges
  - › 1 * 1,500 EUR; 1 * 1,000 EUR
- › print margin total: 3,500 EUR
- › short ca. 40,000 EUR p/a as compared to projected costs of 115,000 EUR
- › not sustainable in the long run

- › experiences in the past year
  - › monographs
  - › edited volumes
- › best practices
  - › acquiring manuscripts
  - › finding reviewers
  - › timelines
  - › conversion process
  - › bibliographies
  - › proofreading process
  - › dealing with demanding authors/volume editors

---

› Lunch

---

- › Future funding
- › Future setup